How to Build Roads.

ECHOES FROM THE STATE CONVENTION HELD AT SEDALIA LAST WEEK.

Some of the Resolutions Passed Looking Toward the Improvement of Missouri's Muddy Roads.

Sedalia was full of business last week, two large conventions holding their annual sessions there—the Missouri State Dairy Association on Tuesday and Wednesday, followed by the Missouri State Road Association on Thursday and Friday.

There never has been such a large and representative gathering of road improvers in Missouri before—delegates being in attendance from about all the counties and drawn from the farming, professional and mercantile interests. These men realizing the great benefits to be derived from better roads and the inadequacy of the present road laws, came to the convention determined to formulate some suggestions to the legislature now in session, looking toward the amending of the road laws in such a manner as would permit the desired improvements to be made.

The convention was called to order by the President, J. L. Erwin, of Fulton, who announced the following committee on credentials and permanent organization: Messrs. N. D. Thurmond, of Callaway; J. E. Mellon, of Greene, and Edgar S. Barnes, of Audrain.

The convention organized by the selection of J. L. Erwin, of Callaway, President; Levi Chubbuck, of Boone, Secretary, and Edgar S. Barnes, of Audrain, Asst. Secretary.

All resolutions were referred to the following committee on resolutions: N. D. Thurmond, of Callaway; J. B. Quigley, of Pettis; C. P. Ellerbe, of St. Louis; Judge J. A. Gibson, of Jackson; General James Harding, J. H. Pratt and J. E. Mellon.

The following topics for discussion were announced: Thursday afternoon—"Dirt roads, how can they be improved? Needed legislation for dirt roads."

Friday, 9:30 a. m.—"Roads. Shall they be built by counties or private corporations?"

10:30 to 12 m.—"Needed legislation for road roads."

1:30 to 5 p. m.—"Report of committee on resolutions and the discussion of the same."

All these topics were discussed with intelligence and with the desire to get practical benefit for the future and relief from the present.

Gov. Stone was present the first day and addressed the convention, telling them that he did not feel that he thoroughly understood just what would be the best thing to do toward improving the roads but that he thought something ought to be done. He had come there to listen to the opinions of those who had made a study of the question and to learn what he could of the ideas of the people from the different sections of the State. The legislative committee, composed of Senators Tunnell, Gash and Yeater and Representatives Marsh, Banks and Davis were present and came, as they said, to learn what was the desire of the convention as to legislation needed for the improvement of the roads and highways.

Discussions on the various topics were limited to either five or ten minutes. When some one was talking "through his hat" time was called and he was shut off, but when any one was talking to the point his time would be extended so as to receive the benefit of his ideas.

Speeches were made by B. E. Johnson, St. Louis; J. E. Mellon, C. P. Ellerbe, Judge Houston, Mr. Napton, of Saline; Senators Tunnell, Gash and Yeater, A. J. Blake, of St. Louis; Geo. Harned, of Cooper; W. Woody critics, James Oren librarian and Daisy Baker assistant librarian. After which the society adjourned to meet Jan. 28th.

C. W. T.

The Palouse (Wash.) Gazette, in speaking of school work in Whitman county, that state, pays a handsome and deserved compliment to Superintendent M. A. Corner, son of W. L. Corner, of this city. Superintendent Corner has under his jurisdiction 140 school districts, besides the city schools. The Gazette says: "It is safe to say that Prof. Corner's administration of the educational affairs of this county will be marked with the greatest success." Prof. Corner will visit here in June and also take in the World's Fair.

Fancy Saddle Horses.

Joseph A. Potts leaves for Hot Springs, Ark., this week with a carload of fancy saddle horses. Mr. Potts is the saddle horse man of Missouri, and is taking some choice animals to Hot Springs which should command fancy prices. Mr. Potts won't have anything that is not topky and first-class in every particular.

J. D. McKee is home from a visit to his parents in Waco, Texas. While there he met Mr. Norman Lackland and family, who have lately moved to that city from Mexico, to reside. He says that Clarence has a large candy house in that city and is doing a splendid business.

A Neesho merchant recently sold in one transaction 7,500 'possum, 1,200 'coon, 1,500 skunk, two bear, seven wolf, nine beaver, 130 mink and 100 fox skins, all the product of Southwest Missouri.

law; it is not the sense of this convention that the present road law be repealed but amended.

The General Assembly should submit to the people a constitutional amendment allowing counties to levy not exceeding 20 cents on the hundred dollars for road purposes, and also to issue bonds to run not longer than twenty years, the interest and principal to be paid out of the county road fund, the issuing of such bonds to be determined by the vote of counties wishing to issue such bonds.

The following supplemental resolutions were offered and adopted: We hereby declare our conviction to be that local option is the basis of the solution of the road question in this state, and, therefore, provision should be made by law whereby counties, townships, districts or other sub-divisions of the state may organize upon a vote of the resident real estate owners in such county, township or district.

That the present road law should be so amended as to provide for a supervisor of roads for each county, who shall have supervision and control of all public roads and who shall supervise and instruct district overseers; that overseers should be elected at a general election or appointed by the county court with the advice and consent of the county supervisors; that road districts should be formed without regard to school districts.

The following resolution offered by Mr. Thurmond was adopted: That it is the sense of this convention that a constitutional convention be called to submit to the people a new constitution.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: J. L. Erwin, of Callaway, President; Judge S. M. Houston, of Greene, Vice-President; Levi Chubbuck, of Boone, Secretary and Treasurer; Geo. Harned, of Cooper, B. E. Johnson, of St. Louis, Francis Brown, of Buchanan, J. L. Brown, of Greene, Jacob B. Book, of Holt, J. B. Quigley, of Pettis, T. W. Smith, of Jackson, John Rogers of Christian, C. A. Killian, of Perry, and Wm. Alexander of Ray, trustees.

The convention authorized President Erwin to appoint a committee to present the above resolutions to the General Assembly. The committee as named is composed of N. D. Thurmond, Gen. J. A. Harding, E. D. Porter, H. C. Buckingham, J. B. Quigley, C. P. Ellerbe, J. L. Erwin.

After a resolution of thanks for the hospitable manner in which the convention was entertained by the citizens of Sedalia the convention adjourned sine die.

EDGAR S. BARNES, Assistant Secretary.

Union Literary Society.

Saturday, Jan. 21, Society convened at the usual hour, Secretary Maud Carter, after enduring a severe illness, was able to be with us again. On account of it being the day for the society to elect new officers the duties were few in number. The oration delivered by Mr. Corner was a good production. Subject "Columbus."

He neatly told of his early life and of him trying to secure aid, that he might carry out his plans, etc. The male quartette, which received much applause, consisted of Mr. Torreyson, George Corner, Roscoe Kimball and O. Harding. Miss Wallace favored the society with an instrumental solo. The Union Literary Success was read by Miss Grantham, an excellent production, and we hope enjoyed by all. After the completion of the literary productions the society proceeded to the election of officers, resulting as follows: Arthur Ellis, President; Thos. Carter, Vice-President; Maud Wallace, Secretary; Clara Aydelotte, Corresponding Secretary; Russell McClellan, Treasurer; Dan Cauthorn, Sergeant; Geo. Corner and E. J. Woody critics, James Oren librarian and Daisy Baker assistant librarian. After which the society adjourned to meet Jan. 28th.

TWELVE LIVES PAY THE TAX.

Dog-Killing Day at the City Hall—All Meet Death Canine-Like Before a Big Audience.

This was execution day for fifteen dogs, which had been tried by the "Supreme Council" for running at large without wearing a "C. T. P." collar, but just before the black cap was adjusted three of them were pardoned. It was decreed by Executioner Kemp that twenty-three should "shuffle off this mortal coil" to-day, but eight of the doomed creatures broke jail last night while the death-watch was peacefully dreaming of the dogless condition of his neighborhood after the morrow. The sun came up bright this morning, in the east as usual. The remaining fifteen dogs arose and donned their death robes, all appearing to feel tolerably well considering the gravity of their condition. All ate a hearty breakfast as if it were not the last they were to ever devour and took their places to receive the final decree. A little after 9 o'clock the yard back of the City Hall was pretty well filled with spectators and friends of the condemned, some of them owners who were helpless and hapless, others who hadn't slept a wink during the life time of the doomed dogs and who wanted to see the howlers die. One by one the Marshal led them forward and placed a revolver at their heads.

"Have you anything to say before leaving us?" the executioner would ask.

"I would like to warn this large assemblage," said a cur from the western portion of the city, "to stay out of bad company and keep out of sight of Bob Kemp. Good-bye, dogs; I was going to leave you!"

"Bang!"

Taxes paid.

"Next."

The Death of C. T. Quisenberry.

Mr. Jos. D. Morris received a telegram from Eureka Springs yesterday announcing the death of C. T. Quisenberry, who, up to about six years ago, was a resident of this city. The dispatch was from Mrs. Quisenberry and stated that, on account of illness, she could not accompany the corpse of her husband to Mexico. The remains will arrive to-day at noon and will be taken charge of by friends. Funeral services will be held at the Christian church by Elder W. B. Taylor at 1 o'clock to-day, after which the body will be laid to rest by the side of his first wife and daughter, the late Mrs. Laura Nelson. Death was the result of droupy. Deceased had been in ill health for some time and had taken refuge at Eureka Springs in the hope of improving his physical condition.

Colby T. Quisenberry came to Mexico with his family from Kentucky in 1856. He was then a wealthy man and purchased the residence and grounds now occupied by Judge J. E. Ross. After a short residence here his wife, who was a Miss Weathers, died. Of this union there were six children—Mrs. Bettie Brattle, Mrs. Laura Nelson, Mrs. Nannie Fowler, Misses Andy and Rena and a son, Bross. Afterward Mr. Quisenberry married Miss Emma Cauthorn, a cousin of B. R. Cauthorn. The result of this marriage was four children—Rilla, Henrie, Audie and Fannie, all of whom are living. Deceased was 65 years of age, and his home was at Trinidad, Col. During his residence here he was a prominent stock dealer and farmer and was at one time treasurer of the Missouri State Grange. He was an honest man, a true Christian and a warm friend to his fellow man. He was a member of the A. O. U. W. Lodge of this city.

New Officers.

The Excelsior Society met Saturday afternoon with but a few absent. The quarterly paper, the W. de Awake, was edited by Miss Ollie Threlkeld and was much enjoyed. Miss Gertrude Barker favored the society with an instrumental solo which very much appreciated. It being "election day" most of the time was taken up with voting. Mr. Arthur Brown was elected president; Miss Olive Mason secretary; Mr. Fred Morris sargent. The society adjourned to meet Jan. 28.

New Timothy Seed.

1,000 bushels of new timothy seed for sale at $2 per bushel. Samples furnished on application to WILDER & PEARSON, 43-3w Laddonia, Mo.

Officer W. T. Callahan, brother of J. F. Callahan, of this county, died in St. Louis last week from the effects of a wound, the result of being struck by a brick while making an arrest. Mr. Callahan had been on the police force in St. Louis for more than four years and was very popular with his superior officers.

Will Likely Go to California.

James Bunton sold to-day a house and lot in Southeast Mexico to Wm. Brown for $500. Mr. Bunton will either move to Shelby county, Mo., or to California. He thinks the latter place will suit him. His son, Andy, will take charge of his business here. We dislike to see Mr. Bunton leave Mexico.

Dobyns & Gibbs have sold their stock of drugs to J. W. Woolridge and A. K. McArthur, the former of Macon City and the latter of Chillicothe. Both of the purchasers are young men and practical pharmacists. The new firm will take charge of the business about February 1.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Chronicle: Two schemes are agitating the legislators at Jefferson City: Proposals for a convention to revise the constitution, and the increase in the price of convict labor to contractors from fifty cents to $1 per day. Both ideas should be adopted.

R. T. Freeman bought 20 mules from R. R. Buckner for $77.50. He also bought 6 from A. Bledsoe for $750 and 2 from C. Householder for $145. Mr. Freeman has 50 head on hand.

Charley Cauthorn, of the firm of Cauthorn Bros., who have a large saw mill near Worcester, had his left hand caught in a saw this week which necessitated the amputation of the thumb.

Lamertine Lackland, who recently lost his house south of town by fire, killed hogs last week and hung them in a close barn while warm and they spoiled. The fresh air would have saved them.

Dr. Houghland, of Evansville, Ind., is in Mexico on a visit. The Doctor has a host of warm friends here who are glad to know that he is prospering at his new home.

The citizens of Santa Fe, it is said, are enjoying fresh fish. They cut a hole in the ice and the fish come to it for air, then they are scooped out.

Miss Ida Rosemond will open her millinery store in the old National Bank room, Ringo corner, on February 1, where she will have a large stock of stylish goods and will be glad to welcome her patrons and friends.

24-11-w.

G. W. Robertson, of Montgomery City, who bought the Clacher & Hill hardware store, is in Mexico and an invoice of the stock will be taken at once. Mr. Robertson's family will remove here in course of a month or so.

Application is being made for a post-office at the new town in this county to be called Lewiston. We trust the petition will be granted as a post-office in that part of the county will prove quite a convenience.

WILL MEET AT COLUMBIA.

The Next Session of the Missouri Press Association to be Held in That Town.

The Executive Committee of the Missouri Press Association, consisting of President J. C. Kirby of the West Plains Gazette, Walter Monroe, Tipton Times; J. N. Shepherd, Milan Standard; R. M. White, Mexico Ledger; H. T. Burkhart, Fayette Democrat—Banner, W. L. Thomas, St. Louis School and Home, W. L. Merwin of the St. Louis Journal of Education, met in executive session at the Laclede Tuesday, for the purpose of arranging a place of meeting for the regular annual winter assemblage of the Association. Besides the members of the committee present at the meeting this morning were H. F. Childers of the Troy Free Press and Walter Williams of the Columbia Herald, ex-President of the Association. The committee, after hearing from Mr. Williams, accepted the cordial invitation of E. W. Stephens and decided to hold the winter meeting of the association in the office of the Herald at Columbia, Mo., March 15-17 inclusive. The regular annual meeting of the association will be held at Clinton, Mo., the latter part of June, when an excursion train bearing the Missouri Press Association will be run to Chicago, where several days will be spent viewing the sights within the World's Fair inclosure.

Every editor in Missouri is cordially invited to the winter business meeting at Columbia. Only those who join the association will be expected to take part in the summer meeting at Clinton and the excursion to Chicago.

The Mockridge Company All Right To Prof. A. J. Sellers.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 19.—My Dear Sir: The Mockridge Co. is all right. They gave excellent satisfaction here. Mr. Wyatt is very fine and makes an excellent impression. The soprano, Miss Paola, grew on us as the concert progressed and appeared to fine advantage in the quartet. There is no discount on Miss Alvey; also, the young violinist is a real artist and in some of his encores took the people by storm. Mockridge says his company is better than last year. I would say it is fully equal.

Very Truly Yours,

L. BLAKELEY, Pastor First Cong. Church.

District Sunday School Convention.

Beginning at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, the Missouri State Sunday School Association, embracing the counties of Boone, Callaway, Pike and Ralls, will convene at the Christian Church in this city and continue in session until Saturday night. A cordial invitation is extended to the Sunday School workers of all denominations to be present at the sessions.

Crushed to Death by Clay.

WARRENTON, Mo., Jan. 23.—Pleas Luckett, aged about 45, employed by the Mexico Fire Brick Company in a clay mine one mile southwest of this place, was crushed to death and terribly mangled by a pile of clay weighing about two tons which fell from the face of the mine.

Wheat is looking fine. This is cheerful. When the staff of life is plentiful and cheap we should be happy.

A Pleasant Party.

The married ladies of Mexico who had been entertained by the Cinderella Cooking Club of this city on Tuesday evening, Jan. 24, gave a party last night in honor of this club. The ladies who entertained the members of the club are: Mesdames E. D. Graham, Frank Sanford, J. M. Pollard, L. B. Morris, F. N. Frost, S. B. Cook, Charles Glendy, D. P. Moore, C. F. Lupton, George Robertson, B. F. Dobyns, Birt Ringo, Ned Buckner, E. S. Wilson, W. B. Conway, John T. Rickerts, George Marshall and D. A. McMillan. The entertainment was pronounced by all present one of the most brilliant and enjoyable affairs ever given in this city. The youth and beauty of Mexico was out in force and passed a most pleasant evening. The fairy godmother was impersonated by Mrs. Landon Morris, who made a brilliant success—charming all who saw her. The fairy godmother measured the foot of each lady member of the cooking club as she arrived at the ball room and the one with the smallest foot was to receive a pair of Turkish slippers. The prize was awarded to Miss Laura Cooper who wore her honors easy. As the young ladies entered the room they voted for the most popular young gentleman who was to act as the prince. Mr. Chas. Rodgers received the largest number of votes and was declared the lucky man. As the guests entered the ball room they enjoyed a splendid table of Ciderella, prince and godmother—Cinderella and the prince leading the grand march. The ladies who had charge of this entertainment are being congratulated on all sides on its success.

Mrs. Walter Williams returned to Columbia to-day. She has many dear friends in Mexico. Quite a bevy of ladies were at the depot to see her off.
